...died on the cross for our sins and rose again so that we could be forgiven; so that we could know peace with God and live life to the full.

Without Jesus, you will spend your life chasing the next thing for some temporary satisfaction. Only with Jesus can you know your deepest needs met.

So this Christmas, enjoy the food, the presents and the celebrations, but remember, however much you indulge, eventually you'll be hungry again.

Only Jesus offers what lasts forever.
Will you come to Him?

FREE FOOD?

December is the one month of the year when we seem to throw the usual rules out of the window. Chocolate for breakfast? Another mince pie? An extra glass of wine with dinner? Go on, it's Christmas!

At Christmas we eat more, spend more and indulge more. But have you ever noticed how quickly our appetites return?

Think about Christmas dinner; we eat until we cannot manage another mouthful, and yet somehow find ourselves tucking into a box of chocolates or diving into a cheeseboard a few hours later.

However full we feel, sooner or later we get hungry again. The satisfaction we have never lasts. And that is true of more than just food at Christmas.

We convince ourselves that if we could just get the new car, the new job or earn a little bit more money, then we'd be satisfied. But when we finally get it, how long does that satisfaction last before we start wanting the next thing?

Once, Jesus fed thousands of hungry people with just five loaves of bread and two fish. You may not know that the following day, the crowds came to Him again. They had received their fill but still wanted more free food.

Jesus knew their real need. In response, He challenged them to look beyond their physical hunger. He said:

"I am the bread of life. Whoever comes to me will never go hungry, and whoever believes in me will never be thirsty."
(John 6:35)

Jesus wasn't offering an endless supply of bread and fish. He was helping them see that no matter what they filled their lives with, nothing would satisfy their deepest need - their need for God.

The same is true for us today. We are all chasing fulfilment, but the things in this world will never fully satisfy us. This is why Christmas is such good news!

The Bible teaches that you and I were created to know God and enjoy a relationship with Him. Yet we have all turned away from Him and chosen to live life our own way. The Bible calls this sin, and it separates us from the God we were created to know.

But Jesus, the Son of God, was born, lived a perfect life...
